Parish Office - The most Holy Body and Blood of Christ - 3rd June 2018.

Cemetery Sunday in St Ninnidh's Cemetery and Finner on Sunday 10th June 2018.

We ask family members to ensure that family graves are presented well on that day and where a grave has nobody left to take care of it, a neighbouring family might help. We thank members of the Tus Scheme who are helping in St. Ninnidh's Cemetery and we thank those who are taking care of the flowers around the Mass Rock. It's intended to re-cover with concrete the turning area at the bottom of the cemetery during the summer and to provide more burial space for the future.

The work done by families in Finner Cemetery is appreciated and greatly enhances the overall appearance of the Cemetery.

International Mass on 5th August.

Because Pope Francis will visit Ireland next August to celebrate the World Meeting of Families, we would like to have representatives of other nationalities who live in our Parish present the Sunday 10am (St. Joseph's) and 11am (Bundoran) Mass on the above date, to prepare for his visit and to recognize other nationalities among us. Please contact any member of our Parish Pastoral Committees, if your family would like to take part. We will make final arrangements and allocate various aspects of the Mass to those who offer their assistance, during the month of July.

THE DEACON: CALLED TO SERVE.

On Sunday 17 June at 3pm in St Michael's Church, Enniskillen, Martin Donnelly of Enniskillen will be ordained as the first permanent deacon in our diocese since the diaconate was re-introduced by Vatican II as a 'distinct ministry of service'. All are welcome to witness Martin's ordination.

WHO CAN BECOME A DEACON?

At present, candidates for the permanent diaconate are men. Pope Francis has set up a Commission to look at the possibility of women being ordained as deacons. A candidate for the diaconate should, ideally, be actively involved in some aspect of lay ministry or leadership in the community. Married men can become deacons.

The ministry of deacon is usually exercised on a part-time voluntary basis. A deacon may hold full-time employment although such employment must not conflict with his responsibility. A married man must be aged thirty-five and under sixty before he can be accepted as a candidate and the formal consent of his wife is required. In fact, wives have an opportunity to be involved in the formation programme. Candidates for the diaconate should have a good general familiarity with the Gospel and an understanding of the Church's mission. A well-founded spirituality and sacramental life is also among the requirements.

The sacramental future of the Church in any Parish will be dependant on the faith and generosity of those who wish to become Deacons or Priests. Where they are not available, local parishioners will have to undertake the administration and presentation of their faith in their own area. This situation is to be seen in many areas of the world and beginning to become evident in some areas of Ireland.
